SUMMARY

I am a versatile professional with expertise in front-end web design, demonstrating a solid command of HTML and CSS, along with ongoing learning in JavaScript to enhance functionality and interactivity. With proficiency in graphic and UI design through Figma, I have crafted creative, detail-oriented web pages and application designs that highlight both technical and artistic skills. My advanced knowledge of Microsoft Office Suite, including Word, Excel, and PowerPoint, enables me to deliver effective reporting, documentation, and data-driven presentations. I possess strong data handling and analytical abilities, ensuring accurate organization and insights for informed decision-making. In addition, I bring excellent communication skills as a cold caller, complemented by proven leadership experience in managing teams, driving productivity, and maintaining a positive work environment. As a content writer, I have produced engaging material across various industries, strengthening brand presence and audience engagement. My hands-on experience extends to a wide range of digital tools, including Canva, CapCut, WordPress, Murf AI, QuillBot, Ahrefs, SEMrush, SEO Quake, Envato, Pexels, and more, showcasing adaptability and technical versatility across different domains.
